

Area school ratings

Most schools in Ohio on Tuesday received a building rating. The ratings (in ascending order) are academic emergency, academic watch, continuous improvement, effective and excellent. The ratings are based on attendance rates, graduation rates and percentage of students passing state tests. *About 500 schools statewide have no rating (N/R). Those not rated include special needs schools, adult education schools and schools that have too few students or schools that don't have students in the grades tested.
